Washington State Department of Licensing does not have "real time" firearm purchase data and experiences backlogs in entering purchase information, sometimes for several months at a time. When up to date, Washington State Department of Licensing history only contains records for handgun purchases, and as of July 2019 forward, semi-automatic rifles, purchased at Washington State Federal Firearm Licensed (FFL) dealers. Long guns, rifles and shotguns are not included in the DOL records nor would any private sales, internet purchases, out of state sales, transfers or gifts be included in these records.
